Win a Symphony™ V1BLUEe – the world's first Bluetooth stereo system worth £250

Welcome to the world's first home stereo system, fully Bluetooth enabled for iPod and music phones. This is the first total combination of music mobile phone, iPod, Hi-fi, bluetooth and USB technologies!

Play music from CD, RDS FM radio, iPod, music phone, Bluetooth mp3, USB stick, memory card, your computer and more. The V1BLUEe will even rip CDs, iPods and FM radio to memory cards and USB sticks.

It's a speaker phone too! The system rings with your mobile ringtone and then becomes a hands-free. If your phone rings, the system will pause the music, play 'your' ring tone through the system, display the Caller ID and enable you to answer the call, using the stereo as a hands-free speaker phone.

iSymphony's third system, moves the brand forward from entry-level systems, to cutting-edge wireless technology, whilst still offering amazing value. The V1BLUEe offers unprecedented wireless and music connectivity in a great sounding and stylish package for a very sensible price.

It is also one of the very few wall-mounting music systems on the market and just needs one cable to the main unit.

iSymphony™ is part of the Made for iPod™ program, meaning that everything from the docking connectors through to the software meets Apple's requirements for the Made For iPod logo.
